To Miss Johnston and Miss Newton

The class of nineteen hundred and fifty-two, with deep and sincere appreciation for their friendship, guidance, and understanding, dedicate this yearbook to Miss Johnston and Miss Newton. They have been not only teachers, but sincere friends, whose deep interest and thoughtfulness have made our school days enjoyable as well as profitable.

Mr Herman Richardson

We, the Class of 1952, wish to express our thanks to Mr. Richardson, who is always ready to help us. We also appreciate his interest in our activities.

Principal's Message

As one looks ahead to a future period of time, one has the feeling—Here is an opportunity for greater accomplishment. In September 1948 your class, then numbering fifty, entered Grade IX. Of the original group, ten were transferred to other schools. Four new students have joined your class. Have you realized the goals you established for yourselves in 1948? Your teachers and I have stood ready at all times to assist you in every way possible.

Time passes rapidly. Possibly your ambitions have not been accomplished. If not, why not change the word "Graduation" to "Commencement"? A new chapter in your life is before you. The future is yours, so plan and choose wisely. Remember, this is your school, and it will always have an interest in you, one of its graduates.

From Our Sea Chest

We, the 1952 crew of the H. M. S. Sharon High School, port of Sharon, Massachusetts, United States of America, Western Hemisphere, Earth, Solar System, being of unsound mind and body, do make and declare this to be our final Will and Testament.

Frank Beveridge leaves his supply of Band-Aids to any Junior who feels like "cutting up"———while shaving, that is.

James Boyden heads for prep school leaving Lee for brother Jack to keep an eye on. Don't strain your eyes, Jack!

Frank Brunetta leaves his football equipment to Bill Burtt.

Ralph Bullard leaves his view of South Main Street to the future occupant of Room 101 who owns binoculars.

Albert Cole leaves with the hope that the Braves will do a war dance and start scalping the other National League teams, so that, this year, they will have a pennant to hang from the top of their wigwam.

Jean Cole and Mary Coyne leave their first period trips uptown to any pair who need a brisk walk to wake them up in the morning.

John Crouse leaves with faith in the future.

Elaine Dennen leaves her gasping giggle to Joanne Hamer.

Barbara Dennett leaves her hearty laugh and good disposition to any underclassman.

Walter Feeley leaves his smart wardrobe to Georgie Goodwin, who will carry on in his tradition of impressing out-of-towners.

Janet Fleming leaves her supply of puns to Farley Peck who, we are sure, will laugh at them even if no one else does.

Frank Foster leaves his quiet self-assurance and good marks to Ralph DeGirolamo.

Edward Furash leaves with visions of scalpels and forceps and promises of many operations if you are a trusting soul.

Barbara Grantham leaves her favorite expression "Choo" to the New York, New Haven, and Hartford to use in their next locomotive. Ding, ding, ding.

George Griffin leaves a supply of nickels to "Skid" Roe so he won't go hungry.

Nancy Guillet leaves her title of "Pygmy" to Mona Feeley so that she can take free rides on the shrimp boats.

Betty Ann Hewitt leaves her dimples to Alan Dunakin to complete his personality.

Peter Huckins leaves his position at second base to Ian Mueller.

Robert Jerauld leaves in the "Green bug" for one of his many trips to Dartmouth to spend the weekend.

William Jones leaves his spectacular height to Norman Andrews. Are you sure that you need it, Norm?

Beverly Keating leaves to be the private secretary of some big businessman.

John Mann leaves his tool box to Giggy White who, we're sure, will keep it well stocked and in good order.

John Mansfield leaves his imitations of Rosy Rosewell to Warner Poor . . . there is a "douzy merooney up the alley".

William Marshall leaves, so that people won't get him confused with "brother" Dave!

Eugene Matthews leaves with his tall tales and witty remarks.

Faith McCaffrey leaves on a flat tire because she knows that a jack will do the trick.

Louise McLean leaves to next year's cheerleaders her driving license and car so that they can get to the games.

Charlotte McNair leaves hoping Patsy Keating can carry on without help.

Gloria Mindick leaves to catch the bus. Oh, gee! It's gone!

Elaine Mitchell leaves her blush to Judy Risch.

Joseph Monahan leaves with our appreciation for the wonderful job that he has done on the basketball programs.

John Monroe leaves his ability to handle cars to Gavin Wrightson and Bobby Donnell.

Alma Morse leaves for her florist shop. Flowers, anyone?

Donald Phelps leaves the teachers in peace to join Gini.

William Welch leaves his little green book to brother Ed. Happy hunting, Eddie!

Dirk Wrightson leaves his place in mechanical drawing to any Junior with an eye for lines.

We leave Mr. Richardson, realizing how fortunate we were to have him for our superintendent.

To Mr. Clark, we leave a bottle of vitamin pills so that he may continue to preside over the pep rallies.

We leave Miss Johnston a two months' vacation in the Alps, so that she may pursue her favorite pastime of skiing.

We leave Miss Newton in her newly decorated homeroom consulting her newest book, "Interior Decoration in One Easy Lesson".

To Miss Chase, we leave a cast of Hollywood actors to star in all her forthcoming productions and a staff of strict librarians who will allow no talking, laughing, or noise, and who will know where every book is located. Impossible!

We leave Mr. Conroy a piece of pine so that he will continue to have good panels on Friday in his P.A.D. classes.

To Mr. Kaufman, we leave another television set so that he can watch Dr. Roy K. T. Marshall instead of Howdy Doody and the Cisco Kid with his children.

We leave Mr. Konsavage with hopes of an undefeated season and a box of Frankie's pink pills. See you at the Alumni game, Coach!

To Mr. Koskella, we leave a brand new car for his driver education class. "Steady now—!"

We leave Mrs. Nason and her husband reserved seats for every basketball game next year.

To Mr. Roman, we leave a new vocabulary list to replace the one he wore out on us this year.

First Mates' Log

September 19, 1951 . . . With Bunker Hill, Old Ironsides and Salem ahead, Mr. Conroy and his American history class started on their annual class trip. The untiring travelers climbed the Bunker Hill Monument and toured the famous frigate, Old Ironsides. They also enjoyed visiting the Pioneer Village in Salem.

October 30, 1951 . . . At 8:30 A.M. a group of hardy Juniors set out with Miss Chase on an American history class trip to the historic shrines of Lexington, Concord, and Sudbury. They visited such places as the Antiquarian House, Emerson's Study, the battlegrounds, and an underground hiding place for munitions.

February 5, 1952 . . . Today the long awaited rings for the Junior Class finally arrived, and those who were lucky enough to have the cash on hand were treated to the first view of the excellently chosen and beautifully designed rings of the Class of 1953.

May 9, 1952 . . . This is the date of the Junior Prom, and as we go to press, the information that we have received seems to indicate that this will be one of the most original in recent years. We understand that it will be held at the gymnasium of the new Cottage Street School with simple but highly effective decorations. We congratulate the class on a fine presentation, for we know that it will be a success.

Midshipmen's Log

October 31, 1951 . . . The Sophomore Class captured first prize in the entertainment competition of our annual Halloween Party with a hilarious satire of a teachers' meeting at Sharon High School. It was a fine job of characterization and everyone present enjoyed it immensely.

Christmas 1951 . . . The class again showed its breadth of talent by winning second prize in the class of religious drawings of our first Christmas Art Contest.

April 25, 1952 . . . We understand that Bob Clayton of the "Boston Ballroom" on WHDH, Boston, will hold one of his Record Hops for the Sophomores at their annual dance. We think that this is a fine idea as a fund raiser, and we are sure that everyone will have a good time.

Seamen's Log

October 31, 1951 . . . The Freshmen attained their first triumph of the year by winning, at our annual Halloween Party, second prize for their humorous skit portraying a typical classroom.

November 16, 1951 . . . They embarked upon "A Visit to Shanghai" with Oriental lanterns, pagodas, and slant-eyed figures cleverly creating the atmosphere of the Orient. The entire dance, under the capable direction of Mr. Harold Jackson, the class advisor, with the assistance of Miss Barbara Flemings, was a social triumph for the hardworking Freshmen. They showed originality and progressiveness by being the first Freshman class to provide music by an orchestra rather than by records.

Christmas 1951 . . . The Freshmen again showed their talents by winning second prize in the non-religious class of our first Christmas Art Contest.

These are only a few of the activities of the Freshman Class; we are sure that their log will be filled with many more successful events.

Honor Society

The National Honor Society was organized to stimulate scholarship in the secondary schools of the country. To be selected is the highest honor that can be bestowed upon a high school student, for it stands for excellence in achievement not only in one phase, but in every line of endeavor.

Under the direction of Mr. Harold Clark, our sponsor, and Faith McCaffrey who was elected last year, this year's induction was held on February 15. The following were chosen: Janet Fleming, Barbara Dennett, Frank Beveridge, Frank Foster, Edward Furash, and Ralph Bullard, Seniors; Joan Abel and Margaret Morgan, Juniors. These members were selected for their high standing in character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Second Row: Warner Poor, Mona Feeley, Edna Lavezzo, Regis King, Barbara Dennett, Margaret Morgan, Gretchen Myers, Joseph Monahan, George Goodwin.

Student Council

Under the direction of Miss Burns, the Student Council has had another successful year. In November, representatives attended the convention of the Southeastern Branch of Associated Bodies of Student Councils at Middleboro High Schoool. In April, they also attended the spring convention at Bridgewater High School.

In addition to introducing The Christmas Art Contest and conducting the election for Good Government Day, they have continued with their other school services—taking charge of monitoring, conducting chapels, selling candy and tickets at home basketball games, and running the supply room. Also the Student Council has managed, again this year, the magazine drive, the proceeds from which were used in part payment for an electric scoreboard. Through the use of the suggestion boxes, this group, representing the student body, has learned of the wishes of their fellow students, and has brought them to the attention of the proper authorities.

We are fortunate to have such an active group to represent the student body.

Fifth Row: Frank Beveridge, George Goodwin, Edward Furash, Gerald Davis.

Fourth Row: Warner Poor, Ian Mueller, William Welch, Keith Hunnewell.

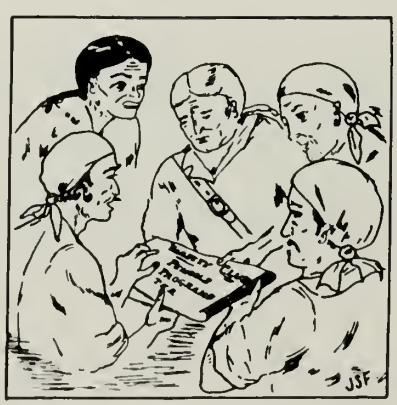
Second Row: James Jones, Robert Hall, John Kennedy, Leo Eldracher, Dirk Wrightson.

First Row: David Elson, Edward Welch, Russell Wallace, Donald Wallace.

Varsity Club

This year, through their contribution and the funds from the magazine drive, the long-sought-after goal of the Varsity Club was finally attained with the purchase of our new electric scoreboard. In addition, they have gone all out, more than ever, to promote school spirit in every possible way. With the introduction of the new pep rally, and the running of the buses to the Friday night basketball games, attendance and support of the team have been greatly increased. The club has participated in many money-making projects, such as conducting food sales with the cheerleaders, and selling school pencils and booster pins. We congratulate them on the fine job that they have done, and we are sure that they will continue with equal success.



Against The Wall, bottom to top: Mrs. Madeline Merritt, Music Supervisor; Ilene Burroughs, Margaret Morgan, Regis King, Elaine Dennen, Lee Oliver, Maureen Sweatman, Norine Thomas, Elizabeth Elson.

Second Row: Joan Abel, Gretchen Myers, Seceretary; Susan Fallon, Pamela Foster, Marlene Levanson, Lorraine Verzone, Elaine Poirier.

A Cappella Choir

Under the able direction of Mrs. Merritt, the choir has had a highly successful first year during which they have given concerts for the Mendelssohn Club of Brockton, the Sharon Baptist Church, the Sharon Parent Teachers Association, the Sharon Rotary Club, the School Christmas Concert, and of course, other school assemblies. Recently they travelled to Boston for an audition with Ted Mack's "Original Amateur Hour". We congratulate them on their fine achievements, knowing they will be even more successful in the future.

This year we also have, under the direction of Mrs. Merritt, a fine glee club, which has joined the choir in several presentations.

Varsity Basketball

The basketball team, under the direction of Mr. William Konsavage and captained by Frank Beveridge and James Boyden, enjoyed a good season with two losses and thirteen wins out of fifteen games. With the addition of Randolph and North Attleboro to the Hockamock League, league competition has increased. We feel that the team has achieved much in maintaining Sharon High School's traditional standards of good sportsmanship and fair play, and we hope that they will meet with the highest success in the forthcoming Brockton Tournament.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders of the 1951 - 1952 season, under the competent leadership of Betty Stressenger, have boosted the morale of the basketball team and aroused much enthusiasm in the spectators.

By helping the Boys' Varsity Club with a food sale, they obtained linings for their skirts which have greatly added to the appearance of their uniforms.

We hope that next year will be another successful season of cheering for the Junior members and that the student body will continue to support them as they have supported us this year.

Varsity Basketball

The girls' varsity basketball team, under the direction of Mrs. Anita Keyes, has enjoyed a good season. This year, the second team was very fortunate in being able to have new gold uniforms which, together with the maroon ones of the first team, represent our school colors. Faith McCaffrey, Manager, and Ruth Kersch, Assistant Manager, ably handled the business of the team. We hope that next year's group will have as successful a year as this one was.
